OBJECTIVE

As a translator, I have the ability to translate all types of texts, including scientific, technical, commercial, literary, legal and educational documents. My translation is fast and professional. I don't use Google translation or any other translation machine, so you can be sure that you'll get an accurate and effective translation.

I have worked as a freelance translator for a long time and I have a great experience in that field. Also, as a student of English literature, I have taken many translation courses which enable me to translate texts according to the academic and scientific rules of translation. In fact, my fascination of translation is part of an old dream to create better understanding for a better world.
